

July 2013 English Camp in China

Key Facts:

What? Teaching English to adults aged 20-40

Where? Union Theological Seminary, Nanjing China

When? July 6-19, 2013 or July 20-August 2, 2013

Who? People who speak English as a first language

Sponsored By:

Word4Asia
CONSULTING INTERNATIONAL

Looking to do Something Meaningful this Summer?

Teachers are needed for this unique opportunity. Qualifications Include:

- Speak English as a first language
- Have a heart for China and its people

This summer more than 200 local university students and business people will come to Union Theological Seminary-the only national seminary in China-for two weeks to learn English. This English language program is hosted by the seminary, and offers teachers the opportunity to interact with students in class, in recreational activities and over meals on the seminary's modern campus.

Teachers will spend a weekend in a student's home, experiencing life with a modern Chinese family. Additionally, on Sunday, all teachers will travel with a team into a rural part of Jiangsu Province where you will have an opportunity to observe as Chinese leaders present Bibles to rural churches, observe the Chinese Church in worship and gain a better understanding of Chinese culture and traditions.

Schedule

Saturday—Sunday: Travel to China and in-country to Nanjing

Monday—Friday noon: Teach English classes using provided professionally developed curriculum

Friday noon—Sunday morning: Home visit with student

Sunday: Travel to Jiangsu Province

Monday—Thursday: Teach English classes using provided professionally developed curriculum

Friday: Graduation ceremony and student performances

Saturday: Return home or take advantage of touring in Beijing to visit the Great Wall, Tiananmen Square, the Forbidden City and more, all arranged by Word4Asia for those who request this two-day option at additional expense.

Evenings will include sightseeing to the Confucius Temple, Nanjing War Museum, the 14th century Nanjing City Wall, Amity Press (the world's largest Bible printing press) and more.

Your sponsors for this 2013 opportunity:

Since 2001, Word4Asia has worked legally in China with a strictly above-board position and thus in cooperation with the Chinese officials.

Our staff in the United States and in China will work behind the scenes, seeing to every detail to make this trip both a blessing to participants from your church and to the Chinese students you impact.

We look forward to working with you in this exciting opportunity.

What will this cost?

$3,200 (per person, double occupancy), $3,900 (per person, single occupancy).

The optional Beijing add-on is $620 for double occupancy and $740 for single occupancy.

The cost for participants includes:

- Round-trip airfare from Los Angeles (LAX) to Shanghai
- In-country travel to Nanjing
- Meals, lodging and full facilities at Union Theological Seminary
- Home visit with students
- Evening sightseeing excursions included as part of the program
- In-country guides, translators and logistical experts

NOTE : For those choosing the Beijing option, the charge is all inclusive.

All participants must obtain a Visa at their own cost. Visa requirements for U.S. citizens include a signed passport valid for at least 6 months, a recent professional passport-type photograph, a copy of the round-trip airline itinerary and a signed letter of invitation from your host in China, including a copy of the host's Chinese ID. Word4Asia will supply the letter of invitation into China.

Please contact me to learn more and discuss pricing. We look forward to sharing this exciting opportunity with you!

Ashley Trotter,
Executive Assistant

ashley@word4asia.com

951-529-9385